GREETINGS FROM THE CHAMBER

135 South Salisbury Street, Mocksville • 336.751.3304 • www.daviechamber.com

Welcome to Davie County!

While it is impossible to showcase all the fullness of our county, it is our hope that the welcoming spirit and richness of our community can be touched upon in the pages of this guide. This annual publication provides helpful information about Davie County including our wonderful Chamber member businesses. We are dedicated to promoting these businesses and enhancing the quality of life in Davie County. When deciding where to spend your dollars, be sure to support the businesses who have invested in this community.

The Davie County Chamber of Commerce has served the business community as a catalyst of business growth and economic development. We believe in working together to promote a strong and vibrant business community throughout Davie County. As the countywide Chamber, we represent businesses from Cooleemee to Advance, Mocksville to Bermuda Run and all points in between.

The Davie County Chamber of Commerce also serves as the Visitor Information Center. Once inside you will find a wide array of local and regional tourism materials to help you plan your visit. Be sure to stop in or give us a call and let our friendly staff help you Discover Davie County.

THE COVER STORY

Our 2023 cover photo model is an equine friend of the Davie County Chamber of Commerce named 'Cadillac Blues', affectionately known as Charlotte. Charlotte is an American Quarter Horse mare owned by Jake and Ali Hartman. The photo was taken at Charlotte's home in Advance at Jake Hartman Performance Horses, where Jake specializes in preparing all-around performance horses for the highest levels of competition at American Quarter Horse Association sanctioned horse shows throughout the country. The farm sits on Hartman family land that is rich in Davie County agricultural history. Jake and Ali met through the love of the horse, and their slice of horse heaven in Davie County is so much more than they ever could have dreamed of. In addition to spending as much time as she can at the barn, Ali is the Managing Partner of Pro-Activity North Carolina, an injury prevention and health promotion company committed to facilitating 'stronger, happier people through better health' in the local community, in industrial workforces across the southeast, and in the equestrian community alike. Ali and Jake are proud to call Davie County their forever home with their two dogs, and know that their equine friends love it just as much as they do!

HISTORY OF DAVIE

In the late 1740's, settlers began migrating west of the Yadkin River. Davie County was formed from Rowan County in 1836. The county was named in honor of William R. Davie, a Revolutionary War Leader, governor of North Carolina, minister to France and a leader in the founding of the University of North Carolina.

According to records, a small village named "Mocks Old Field" was in existence before the American Revolution. Even then, the area was considered to be centrally located on the main north-to-south and east-to-west routes of travel in North Carolina. Mocks Old Field was used frequently as a secret meeting place for Colonial forces and planners, some of whom were members of the family of Davie County's most famous citizen, Daniel Boone.

While the name Daniel Boone is associated generally with Kentucky and the West, he also lived in Davie County, in the forks of the Yadkin, for most of 13 years. Boone became the most important explorer in opening the land across the Appalachians to settlement and paved the way for rapid development of that region. From boyhood through manhood, Daniel acquired in Davie County the experience, fortitude, courage, endurance, resourcefulness and expertness with the rifle, which enabled him to succeed in his great undertaking.

Daniel's father, Squire Boone, died January 2, 1765, and his mother, Sarah, died in 1777. Both are buried in the Joppa Cemetery, located off Highway 601 in Davie County. Reference: HISTORY OF DAVIE COUNTY by James W. Wall, 1997.

HISTORY OF DAVIE

Downtown Mocksville Historic District

In 1991, Downtown Mocksville was accepted into the Main Street Program, which is part of the National Register for Historic Places, and is designed to offer grassroots assistance to historic downtowns in their revitalization efforts. We were part of a pilot program especially designed for small downtowns with a population of just over 5,000.

In Cooleemee, the Pearson Graveyard, dating to the early 1700's, was recently reclaimed from the surrounding forest near Pine Ridge Road by local volunteers. With extensive research by a group of Wake Forest University students, grave markers have been returned to or placed at their original sites.

The Davie County Courthouse is a neo-classical revival style building, erected in 1909 in downtown Mocksville. The courthouse and accompanying jail were built at a cost of approximately $40,000. (They were built where the old Davie Hotel once stood.) The original courthouse was built in 1839 and stood in the center of the Town Square. The Courthouse is located on Main Street in Mocksville.

The former Davie County Jail was completed in 1839 and is now privately owned. It is one of two Federal style brick buildings which still survive in Mocksville. The jail served the county until 1909 when the new Courthouse and jail were built. The former jail is located on Main Street.

The Cooleemee Plantation House was built 1853-1855 by Peter and Columbia Stuart Hairston, a sister of Civil War General J.E.B. Stuart. The site is one of the 33 National Historic Landmark sites in North Carolina. An Anglo-Grecian villa in the shape of a Greek cross, the house contains approximately 300,000 bricks made on site. The house is now privately owned by the Foster family.

Fulton Methodist Church was erected in 1888 and reflects a mix of Italianate and Gothic revival style details. The church is listed in the National Register of Historic Places and is located in the Fork community on US Highway 801 South.

The Anderson Family Museum, Calahaln Road at Highway 64 West, houses an extensive collection of nineteenth and twentieth century medical, dental, family memorabilia and general artifacts.

The Cana Store is one of a few surviving late 1800's commercial buildings in Davie County. James Harrison Cain established a mercantile business in Cana in 1877. In addition to the mercantile/country store until 1964, this building also served as the Cana Post Office from 1875 – 1954. The store remains in the Cain family and is located on Cana Road off US Highway 601 North.

HISTORY OF DAVIE

The Squire Boone House site was the 1829 birthplace of Hinton Rowan Helper. Helper was a Davie County man that held center stage in our history in the late 1850's and whose book, The Impending Crisis of the South: How To Meet It was second to Uncle Tom's Cabin as a literary work fueling the fires of secession and the Civil War. The house is one of the 33 National Historic Landmark sites in North Carolina. US Highway 601 in Mocksville (Yadkinville Road).

Hodges Business College was erected in 1894 by Professor John Hodges. It is Davie County's only surviving rural brick academy building. Hodges, a graduate of Duke and Yale Universities operated his school until the early 1900's when he became the superintendent of county schools. The building, which is now privately owned, is located on Cherry Hill Road off Highway 601 South.

A highway marker was placed at the Ferebee family homesite on Hwy. 64 West near Hunting Creek in honor of Colonel Thomas A. Ferebee. The nearby bridge is also named for him. Col. Ferebee was the bombardier on the B-29 "Enola Gay" and dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan, August 6, 1945.

Joppa Cemetery is one of the oldest and most historic graveyards in Davie County. The burial grounds contain the graves of Squire and Sarah Boone, parents of Daniel Boone. Daniel Boone lived near Bear Creek during his teens and early twenties. A North Carolina historical marker notes the location of the cemetery located on US 601 in Mocksville (Yadkinville Road).

The Veterans' Memorial Marker in the Mocksville Town Square records the names of 346 Davie County men who died in military service from the Civil War to the present.

While crossing Davie County on a rainy day, February 7, 1781, General Cornwallis' British Army crossed Dutchman Creek in pursuit of American General Nathanael Greene. This was the main crossing of Dutchman Creek toward Yadkin County until the early 1900's. The old roadbed and rock are still visible in the creek. Legend says that Cornwallis dubbed the area Pudding Ridge because the quantity and thickness of the mud his army had to travel through was like pudding. A sign marking the crossing is located on Pudding Ridge Golf Course.

FARMINGTON HISTORIC DISTRICT is located in northeastern Davie County's Farmington Township and contains the most cohesive collection of historic residential, agricultural, commercial, religious, and educational buildings found in an unincorporated community. It runs through the Farmington Rd and NC Highway 801 crossroads and visitors can drive by the beautiful historic homes including the Farmington School Auditorium which is now used as a community events center.

WINMOCK HISTORY

Named for its location, nine miles west of Winston-Salem and nine miles east of Mocksville, WinMock at Kinderton survives from the estate built by S. Clay Williams, a former president of RJ Reynolds Tobacco Co. Historically known as Win-Mock Farm Dairy, the barn was once part of one of the largest dairies in North Carolina with the biggest and best herds of Red Poll cattle in the country. It was said that Mr. Williams was passionate about agriculture and ran the farm hands-on like a ship captain instructing every facet of the operation until his death in 1949. After the passing of Mr. Williams, the Bahnsen family purchased the property, operating 850 acres of the Win-Mock Farm and preserving its history until the late 1990's when it was sold as part of a commercial development package.

The barn's unique architectural style features a dramatic 7,200 square foot loft designed to hold over 7,000 bales of hay and is today one of the grandest and most opulent representatives of twentieth century farm buildings in Piedmont North Carolina. The barn was eventually left untouched and empty for more than a decade. In 2008 Sterling Events Group developed a plan to breathe new life into the structure and initiated plans to transform the old barn into the Triad's premier special events center. These efforts helped showcase its historical significance at both the state and federal level and in December 2010, the iconic barn was officially added to the U.S. National Register of Historic Properties in recognition of its importance to the history of North Carolina and the United States.

VISIT HISTORIC COOLEEMEE

Welcome to historic Cooleemee. Born in 1898 on the banks of the South Yadkin River, Cooleemee takes you back to a time when weavers raised families in humble mill homes and no one locked their doors. With over 300 mill houses still remaining the feeling of this lifestyle still persists.

Located in the historic Zachary House, the Textile Heritage Center Museum provides in-depth history into life in a cotton mill town. The Mill House Museum reveals a typical 1930's company-owned dwelling of this bygone era.

Travel just across the river for a visit to the RiverPark at Cooleemee Falls "The Bullhole". Enjoy a picnic lunch, relax on the shore beside bedrock shoals below the old stone dam or ramble along the park's beautiful wooded trails. For the water sports enthusiasts, a canoe portage allows passage around the dam and a beautiful view of the park from the river.

The park has a shelter available for rental as well as picnic tables scattered throughout the grounds and public restrooms.

DAVIE COUNTY

MOVING WITH PURPOSE

FOR

You!

Davie County stands ready to usher in new beginnings for the residents of our community. As we focus on services that provide for all of Davie County, we are a county that is committed to YOU!

Davie County Breaks Ground for New Water Treatment Plant

In March, Davie County held the groundbreaking for a new water treatment plant (WTP) that will provide service for nearly 38,000 customers. The WTP is being constructed in Cooleemee, replacing the current facility in that area of the county and also the Hugh Lagle Plant in Mocksville. The consolidation of these two plants not only merges two treatment facilities in the county, but will provide an affordable outcome for customers since facility services will not be duplicated and modern efficiencies will be incorporated. The new water treatment plant is anticipated to be completed in mid 2026.

EMS Station #4 Under Construction

EMS Station #4 is expected to be operational late summer/early fall and will serve communities in the Bixby area (including Advance, Cornatzer and Fork), resulting in better response times for those experiencing medical emergencies. The station is a free standing, three truck bay facility with living quarters and is located at the corner of Howardtown and Cornatzer Roads.

STAYING SAFE DURING AN OUTAGE

EnergyUnited's Surge Guard Protection is a revolutionary system that offers complete protection against high-voltage power surges. Our system protects hardwired and plug-in equipment and is the only total protection of appliances available.

When summer or winter weather gets rough, will you be prepared? No matter how you fuel your heating or cooling unit, your thermostat still needs electricity to call for heat or cool air. A backup generator from Generac can make all the difference.

Learn more about surge protection and generators by visiting our products and services page at energyunited.com or call 1-800-522-3793 to speak to an expert!
